Education, Research and Policy to Reduce Environmental Risks

Time for the U.S. to Start Taking Charge on Protecting the Public from Wireless Radiation

Mandatory Cancer Warning Stickers for Cell Phones Backed by Berkeley

Berkeley, CA officials are working on legislation that would required retailers to have cell phones sold with sticker warning that the phones may emit radiation that causes cancer. Learn More

Hybrid and Electric Automobiles Should be Re-Designed to Reduce Electromagnetic Radiation Risks

Hybrid and electric cars may be cancer-causing as they emit extremely low frequency (ELF) electromagnetic radiation (EMR) or magnetic fields. Recent studies of the levels of EMR emitted by these automobiles have claimed either that they pose a cancer risk for the vehicles' occupants or they are safe. Learn More

New York Times Reports on the Hazards of Electromagnetic Waves

The evidence for biological effects of electromagnetic fields continues to grow stronger. Science writer Kenneth Chang explores the scientific discourse on electromagnetic fields. His article features public health experts from the World Health Organization. Learn more

Old Bill's Fun Run for Charities

Participate in Old Bill's Fun Run on September 6 in Jackson Hole, WY to raise money for charity. Over the past 17 years, Old Bill's Fun Run has helped local charities raise over $100 million and has touched the lives of thousands. Those dollars have helped house homeless pets, feed the hungry, teach our children, and protect Jackson's natural beauty. Learn more

C4ST CEO Frank Clegg on Canada AM

July 10 2014: Frank Clegg, CEO of Canadians for Safe Technology (C4ST) and former Microsoft President, talks about the masses of scientific research ignored by Health Canada in their review of Safety Code 6.

EHT needs your help to complete our infant and toddler brain modeling study to learn the true levels of radiation that young children absorb from wireless devices. Although millions of young children are using devices today, nobody can tell us what this may mean for their health. Learn More about what it means to be a volunteer.
