

Canary in a ~~Coal~~ Gold Mine

A comedic 21st century love letter and eco-justice adventure

Locked down during COVID, Mirin turns the camera on . . . himself, telling the story of the mysterious symptoms his life and production partner, Swiss choreographer Godeliève Richard, began experiencing in 2010.

Premiere: Fri., 3/3 @ 6:30 @ Landmark E Street Cinema Theatre, 555 11th Street, NW.

Friday's screening is preceded by a reception @ 5:30 and followed by a panel with Jonathan Mirin, Mikhail Kogan MD, Medical Director, GW Center for Integrative Medicine, investigative journalist Barbara Koeppel, Joseph Sandri, President, National Spectrum Association, and Theodora Scarato MSW, Exec. Director, Environmental Health Trust.

Tickets: dciff-indie.org + ptco.org/canary.

“Mirin is a performer with energy to burn.”

– nytheatre.com

“elegant...entertaining...engaging...and disturbing”

– Chris Rohmann. Valley Advocate

